REPORT ON LOHRI CELEBRATION 2025

Theme: "Dheeyan Di Lohri" – Celebrating the Girl Child

1. Introduction GHG Khalsa College of Education, Gurushar Sadhar, celebrated the Lohri Festival 2025 with great enthusiasm on January 16, 2025. The event, organized by the M.Ed. 1st and 2nd-year students, was held under the guidance of their teacher-in-charges, Dr. Jasleen Kaur, Dr. Jasvir Kaur, Dr. Manpreet Kaur, and Mr. Sukchain Singh.

This year's theme, "Dheeyan Di Lohri" (Lohri of the Girl Child), aimed to promote gender equality and celebrate the birth of daughters. The festival not only upheld traditional customs but also conveyed a strong social message of valuing and honoring girl children.

2. Cultural Performances The event featured a series of vibrant cultural performances, showcasing the rich heritage and significance of Lohri:

- Poem Recitation: Arshpreet Kaur (PG Diploma in Guidance & Counseling) delivered a heart-touching poem, "Kudiyan Di Lohri."
- Song Performance: Satvinder Kaur (B.Ed. 1st year) captivated the audience with her melodious rendition of "Pekke Sohre."
- Satirical Play (Bhand): Ranveer Singh and Paramjot Singh performed a lively folk satire, adding an element of humor and social commentary.
- Group Dance: Muskaan and her team energized the gathering with a dynamic cultural dance, celebrating the festive spirit of Lohri.

Additionally, speeches were delivered by students on the importance and historical relevance of Lohri. Ranveer Singh (B.Ed. Semester IV) recited a beautiful poem dedicated to the festival, while Manpreet Kaur (B.Ed. Semester IV) shared her views on why Lohri should be celebrated with enthusiasm. Kiranpreet Kaur (B.Ed. Semester IV) elaborated on the historical and cultural significance of Lohri and Maghi.

3. Special Highlight – Honoring Mothers of Girl Children A key highlight of the celebration was the special recognition of three mothers from the local community who had recently given birth to a girl child. They were honored with token money and appreciation awards to encourage and celebrate the birth of daughters. The honored mothers included:

- The daughter-in-law of Mahesh (non-teaching staff member)
- The daughter-in-law of Balbir Kaur (non-teaching staff member)
- One more local community member

This initiative emphasized the need to break gender biases and celebrate the arrival of every child, regardless of gender.

4. Bonfire Ritual & Festive Celebrations The traditional Lohri bonfire was ceremoniously lit by:

- Chief Guest: Dr. Sandeep Sahni, Principal, Govind National College, Narangwal
- Principal: Dr. Pargat Singh Garcha
- Faculty members, non-teaching staff, and students

Students and faculty gathered around the bonfire, singing folk songs and performing the customary Lohri rituals. The air was filled with joy as students danced to the beats of dhol, fully immersing themselves in the festival's spirit. The event concluded with the distribution of traditional Lohri delicacies, including Rewri, Moongfali, Til, and Gachak.

Principal Dr. Pargat Singh Garcha congratulated the faculty and students for organizing the event with great zeal and commended their efforts in spreading awareness about gender equality through the celebration.

Conclusion The Lohri Celebration 2025 at GHG Khalsa College of Education was a perfect blend of tradition and social consciousness. Through music, dance, speeches, and social recognition, the event not only honored the essence of Lohri but also reinforced the importance of celebrating and empowering the girl child.

REPORT ON WEEKLY MORNING ASSEMBLY – PLANETARY ALIGNMENT

GHG Khalsa College of Education, Gurusar Sadhar, upholds the best practice of organizing a weekly morning assembly, with different mentor groups taking turns to lead the sessions. On Monday, January 27, 2025, Mentor Group A, under the guidance of Dr. Manu Chadha, conducted the morning assembly, focusing on the theme "Planetary Alignment," an astronomical event that had taken place on 25th January 2025. The assembly was organized in collaboration with the Madam Marie Curie Science Club, also led by Dr. Manu Chadha, enriching the scientific engagement of the participants.

The assembly commenced with a Group Shabad, performed by college students, setting a spiritual tone for the session. This was followed by a motivational "Thought of the Day" presented by Jatin Singh (B.Ed. 1st year) and a briefing on current affairs by Gurdeep Singh (B.Ed. 1st year), who delivered the latest news headlines. These segments helped instill a sense of awareness and intellectual curiosity among the students.

The core of the assembly revolved around thematic presentations on planetary alignment, providing a detailed insight into the celestial phenomenon. Ms. Kaan Kalra introduced the topic, offering an overview of the event, while Simranpreet Kaur elaborated on its scientific significance. A PowerPoint presentation by Gurmanth Kaur visually explained the intricate details of celestial alignment, making the concept more accessible to the audience. To further engage the students, Manpreet Kaur shared intriguing facts about planetary motion, and Navneet Kaur drew a comparison between astronomy and astrology, highlighting their distinctions and addressing common misconceptions. The session concluded with an interactive science quiz conducted by Lakshpreet Kaur, testing and reinforcing the participants' knowledge of astronomy.

This thoughtfully structured assembly seamlessly blended scientific inquiry with educational engagement, sparking curiosity among students and enhancing their understanding of astronomical events. The collaboration between Mentor Group A and the Madam Marie Curie Science Club provided an enriching learning experience, reinforcing the college's commitment to holistic education. By integrating innovative mentor group activities into the academic environment, the institution continues to inspire students to explore the wonders of science and its impact on human understanding.
